POSTAL CLERK

York; Address Was Not Decipherable

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 21.—Two men were injured—one critically—today when a bomb sent through the mails exploded in the main post office.

The hand of Myrton Genuing, a clerk, was blown away when he opened the package containing the infernal machine. His condition is critical.

Enclosed in a large volume entitled "Life Among the Lowly," from which the pages had been cut, only the fact that the package was improperly addressed had kept it from being delivered. The addressee was not revealed.

Sent From New York

The bomb was said to have been sent from New York, but several hours after the explosion postal inspectors reported they had been unable to determine to whom the package had been addressed.

Today it was taken to the "dead letter" division to be examined. A reverberating roar resulted, shattering heavy plate glass windows and rocking the building noticeably.

Dazed, Genuing was momentarily motionless. Then,

"My God, my hand!" He shrieked.

Rushed to Hospital

Clutching the stump with his other hand, he staggered into the corridor and collapsed. A tourniquet was applied immediately and he was rushed to a hospital.

A negro employee, the only person near Genuing at the time was cut

Police chronology for 48 hours ending at 3:30 p. m., May 20, twenty-one arrests on charges as follows: drunkenness 6, violating parking law 14, suspicion 1.

Police Saturday evening received a report that a group of boys were attempting to rob an intoxicated man near the Rosena plot in South Mill street. However, when police arrived the boys had gone. Not so long ago a group of boys attacked a man, felled him and robbed him of his money. It is probable that the same group, successful in their first act of banditry, essayed another attempt.

A reminder—Memorial May 30, is one week from this Wednesday.

Another crowd of young women spent last week end at Camp East Brook of the Y. W. C. A. Looks like the summer camping season is really here. This is the second time Camp East Brook has been occupied. Several camping groups have also spent week ends at the Camp John M. Phillips of the Boy Scouts.

Those roadsters that looked so chilly this winter are at last coming into their own. Their tops are down, gay bunting is tied at every joint and their wheels have just received bright coats of new paint. "Big Sister" 14 Years Old, Says Artist, Ends "Battle"

It's over!
The great "How old-is-Big-Sister?" controversy is at last ended!

Artist Leslie Forgrave, creator of the popular News strip, "Big Sister," himself put an end today to all arguments over the age of Beth Wood, his likable little heroine.

Beth, says Forgrave, is 14 years old. No more. No less. Just 14. And all of you who guessed her age accurately can do your strutting and "I-told-you-so-ing."

Big Sister is 14 years old for a definite reason, Forgrave points out. "In creating the character of Beth Wood," writes the artist, "I wished to portray a little girl young enough to be fond of harmless fun and yet old enough to assume the responsibilities and to capably fulfill the duties of maintaining a home for her father and brothers."

"Such a girl would be too young at 12 and too old at 16—so I decided on the age of 14 for Beth Wood and, well, there she is—age 14."

And, well—that's that.

RWD Men Donating Two Day's Services To Speed Park Job

Manifesting their appreciation of what the CWA-RWD has meant to them in the past few months, and as evidence of their keen interest in Cascade park, RWD workers on duty in the park will donate their services today and Tuesday, it was stated today by Major Guy Wadlinger, chairman of the Cascade park commission.

The work yet to be finished could not have been done in four days which is the greatest number of days per week for which they may be paid and so that the improvements under way might be completed by Saturday next the RWD forces will work two extra days for which they will receive no pay.

The owners of eight trucks will also donate the services of their trucks as well as their time in the operation and the idea of donating was originated by the men themselves and was purely a voluntary measure, indicating the interest which they have in their home community and their desire to quickly provide for the people here a recreation center.

The action is a mark of the high civic patriotism and it is greatly appreciated by the commission and Parks Director Alexander.

Darrow Report Brings New Issue For Roosevelt

National Recovery Review

National Controversy

JOHNSON DEMANDS
IT BE ABOLISHED

Darrow Board Scores NRA; Suggests Substitution Of Socialistic System

By EDWARD O. MAYL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Roosevelt was faced today with demands for scrapping his pet recovery program, or of discarding the national recovery review board, set up by him to protect the interests of the "little fellow."

Recommendation for the abolition of the NRA and the substitution of socialism was made by Clarence Darrow, chairman of the board, while scrapping of the board was demanded by Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the President's national industrial recovery act.

Darrow, with William O. Thompson, his mild law partner, after three months investigation, found the NRA fosters monopoly and declared America is faced with the choice "between monopoly sustained by government, which is clearly the trend in the NRA; and a planned economy, which demands socialized ownership and control."

The entire board found: "A return to the anti-trust laws for the purpose of restoring competition we believe to be one of the greatest needs of the time."

Johnson asked the dissolution of

State Experiences Mid-Summer Heat

(International News Service)
Pittsburgh sizzled and sweated in ninety-plus temperatures today as the mercury again climbed to mid-summer heights to shatter records of the last 31 years.

At least one death was attributed to the excessive heat. In Philadelphia Mrs. Marie Heisner, 50, collapsed and died at her home.

No relief in the unseasonable weather was promised by government weather bureau officials in either extremity of the state before tomorrow. Showers and thunderstorms were expected to reach Pittsburgh by Tuesday, to be followed by cooler weather from the north west.

Record temperatures of 1903 were recalled in Philadelphia by a thermometer reading of 92 degrees and shattered by two degrees in Harrisburg where yesterday a reading of 91 degrees was recorded.

Weather bureau attaches at both points predicted the temperature would rise to a new record high of 94 degrees before the day is out.

In Eastern Pennsylvania thousands of men, women and children abandoned more strenuous pleasures for the cooling waters of nearby swimming pools and the New Jersey seashore resorts.

Pittsburgh reported 85 degrees today, the highest reading for the early forenoon record this year. Barring an extreme cloudiness, weather bureau officials said the temperature probably would reach the 1911 record mark of 92 this afternoon. Yesterday's high for Pittsburgh was 89 degrees, three below the 1911 for that day also.

WEEK-END PLANE CRASHES IN FOUR STATES

Ten Killed In Plane Mishaps

Two 12-Year-Old Boys Are Among Victims In Disasters Over The Week-End

FOUR MEET DEATH NEAR WINK, TEXAS

(International News Service) Ten persons, including two 12-year old boys, were dead today as the result of airplane accidents in four states over the week end.

At Muscatine, Iowa, two young men were burned to death when they ignored a warning that their plane was in poor mechanical condition. Three hundred feet in the air the gasoline tank exploded showering Maynard Luskevsky, 20 of Muscatine, a student pilot, and James Henick, 23 a soldier on leave from Fort Des Moines with the flaming fuel.

Orrin O. Jones, 23 of Litchfield, Neb., and James V. Mead 19, Oakridge, N. J., were killed in a crash near Lincoln, Neb., yesterday when a wing of their plane caught in a barbed wire fence. Jones was piloting the plane and, according to witnesses, was stunting.

Two Boys Killed Before hundred of witnesses attending the gala dedication of the airport at Wink, Texas, four persons crashed to their death. The dead: Harry Lynch the pilot, William Ravel, 30, Bruce Anderson, 12 and Robert Bessler, 12 all of Wink.

Lieut. Frank F. Findley, 30, Detroit, a member of the Army Air Corps Reserve and Private George Scott, 27, Chicago, were burned to death when their army plane crashed near Fort Huron, Mich., shortly after taking off from Selfridge field.

PA NEW OBSERVES

notices that a large part of the male population of New Castle is a bit slow in giving up the old felts.

It has been called to Pa New's attention that a number of automobiles are running around with large stickers on the rear windows advertising candidates for the late election. The stickers shouldn't have been put there in the first place but now that the election is over there is no possible reason to leave them stay, unless it is to attract state highway policemen.

The swimmin' holes of Lawrence county called a fairly large number of bathers Saturday afternoon. The mercury on the thermometers hovered near the 90 mark and this seemed inducement enough for the swim lovers. Pa New noticed several canoes and a rowboat being towed somewhere or other on a large trailer. The canoes had been newly painted.

A loud crash of glass resounded over the East Washington street bridge area Saturday afternoon when a truck backed into the street light at the city hall corner and broke the lamp. One of the police officers had a nearby grocery boy get out his broom and clean up the glass fragments.

One of the wisecrackers says that it should be against the state law for motorists to carry fishing poles on their automobiles. It spreads fever, he explains, spring fever.

A lady inquired of Pa New Saturday the date of Flag Day. It comes on Thursday, June 14.

Coming down the Croton avenue hill last evening was a small open touring car of ancient vintage carrying eight young men. One of the passengers was standing up on the seat, evidently copying the tactics of "the daring young man on the flying trapeze."

Pa New observed lightning bugs flitting about last evening, the first of the season. This is the earliest they have appeared in a number of years.

Spirea time is here again. Thousands of bushes are in bloom in the city at the present time.

"June bugs" have been annihilated by the hundreds in the past few nights. Hardly an auto on the roads that is not struck by scores of them with sad results to the bugs.

Stone entrance being erected at Cascade Park is certainly going to make an imposing looking gateway to the park. The small concession stands that were at the East Washington street entrance have been removed and a fine stone entrance is being erected, work of the EWD men. The park is also being improved in other ways. The drive along the lake will be one of the beauty spots of Western Pennsylvania.

Summer weather came in with a bang yesterday. The official record shows 92, but it was hotter in some sections of the city Pa New is informed.

One of the prettiest sights in the county just now is a flowering crab tree on the property of Frank Bolinger, Winter avenue. The tree is unusually large for a flowering crab and is about 25 feet high. It is literally covered with pink blossoms and at a distance seems to have no leaves whatever.

A brisk little shower was reported as having occurred Saturday afternoon by residents of the Youngstown road. It did not last long and the sun came out hot afterwards.

Various parks of New Castle were the mecca of automobilists yesterday, according to city officials. The majority of them visited Cascade Park and Cascade boulevard, treated recently with calcium chloride was given a thorough test.

Not having a truck sufficiently large to haul a beam to be used in the remodeling of the police barn, where a petition is to be removed, council today instructed that a truck large enough to suit the need be employed by Councilman Alexander.

They still market horse collars, sure but it isn't so often you see a man carrying one. On East Washington street Saturday we saw one.

Although the ship itself wasn't visible, New Castle residents up late Saturday night saw the "baby blimp" which sailed overhead. The roar of the motors and the bright head and tail lights shining out against the black sky indicated that it was a blimp. The ship, flying east passed overhead about 12:10 a. m.

Erie Youth Is Bullet Victim

Officer Kills Youth When He Stumbles And Gun Goes Off During Chase

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., May 21.—Shot through the back by a bullet from an officer's gun, Anthony Borczon, 15, died in St. Vincent's hospital here today. Officer Virgil Thomas reported he apprehended Borczon and two other youths early Sunday as they were carrying 20 feet of hose. Frightened, the suspects ran.

As Thomas gave chase he "stumbled" and his gun went off, the bullet striking Borczon, the officer said. Action may be taken against the policeman by Police Chief W. F. Detzel and District Attorney Mortimer Graham, who are investigating.

START REBUILDING IN CHICAGO FIRE SWEEP DISTRICT

over a hundred smaller buildings and homes completely destroyed. Homes of at least 35 families are completely destroyed, while many others were damaged and are uninhabitable.

The street car line, elevated lines, telephone company, gas company, water company suffered heavily.

The city fire department suffered losses estimated at almost $300,000. The engine house in the yards burned to the ground, eight pieces of equipment were destroyed, and hundreds of feet of hose.

More than 100 insurance companies will divide losses in excess of $5,000,000, adjusters estimated today.

Police Surround Area A cordon of police surrounded the fire-stricken area today, keeping spectators from the stricken area and the danger of falling walls and gas main explosions. At least 200,000 persons visited the devastated section yesterday.

The fire began late Saturday afternoon, probably from a carelessly thrown match or cigarette stub, officials said, in a live stock pen, quickly burned it way to a hay barn, and was out of control before firemen arrived. Fanned by a brisk southwest wind and kindled by drought-seared frame buildings, the blaze spread rapidly through the vast stock yards and for hours threatened the entire city.

All firemen on leave are off duty were hurriedly mobilized, and 75 percent of the city's fire-fighting equipment was manned by 1500 firemen.

But so intense was the heat the firemen were beaten back by the voracious flames, forced to concentrate on stopping the spread of the conflagration.

Police warned householders in the residential section just east of the yards to evacuate their homes, as the flames leaped across Halsted street and started across the city. Fortunately the wind died down and firemen were able to stop the onslaught of the hungrily roaring flames. But not before several blocks of homes and a number of business structures were destroyed.

the board, as "it is of no service to anybody—it is a political sounding board. In view of its fixed prejudices and partisanship and its unfair methods of taking and reporting on testimony, the conclusion in proceeding in good faith to fulfill its public obligations.

"Its continuance as an agency of government would enable it to promote private purposes at the public expense, and in my judgment would impair seriously the usefulness of the NRA. The board is clearly incapable of supplying fair and constructive criticism, and therefore, I recommend it be abolished forthwith."

The board was created three months ago by President Roosevelt upon the demand of Senators Borah (R) of Idaho and Nye (R) of North Dakota. The Darrow board was instructed to investigate charges the NRA tends toward monopoly and is working extreme hardships upon the "little fellow."

Charge Monopolistic Trends In addition to pointing to the monopolistic trends of the NRA, the Darrow board asked for the removal of a division administrator, the bituminous coal code authority for northern West Virginia, and the divisional authority of the rubber footwear division of the rubber industry, on grounds of undependability.

Asking for the removal of the board, Johnson confined his attacks, however, to the report of Darrow and Thompson, with particular emphasis upon their advocacy of a classist set-up. In this document the two attorneys declared:

"The choice is between monopoly sustained by government x x x and a planned economy which demands socialized ownership and control, since only by collective ownership can the inevitable conflict of separately owned units for the market be eliminated in favor of a planned production, x x x The hope for the American people x x x lies in the planned use of America's resources following socialization."

Fascism or Communism Dwelling upon this paragraph, Johnson retorted:

"Stripped of shadowy verbiage, this means that the choice of the American people is between fascism and communism, neither of which can be espoused by anyone who believes in our Democratic institutions of self-government; nor can any public official who has taken an oath to defend the Constitution of the United States adopt or officially advocate such a program. The supplementary report demonstrates completely the propriety of my recommendation that the review board be abolished."

Donald R. Richberg, chief counsel for the NRA, charged the review board in its original report "was simply seeking to justify a preconceived opposition to the fundamental theories and purposes of the national industrial recovery act."

The members of the board which Johnson wants abolished include besides Darrow and Thompson: Fred P. Mann, Sr., of Devils Lake, N. C.; W. W. Neal of Marion, N. C.; and Samuel C. Henry, retired wholesale druggist of Philadelphia and Chicago.

One Refused to Sign Sinclair, the sixth member of the board, who refused to sign the majority report, in his minority document declared:

"Price-fixing, limitation of production and other factors of monopolistic control approved by the NRA lead us to believe that in some situations they tend to strangle the independent business man in various ways."

He recommended a "series of review boards be set up to take care of the numerous cases which raise no fundamental issue, and a review board of appeal x x x independent of the NRA to pass upon those fundamental cases which are appealed not only from the NRA review board, but also arise from original complaints to the board itself."

Sinclair found 20 per cent of the complaints against the NRA to be fundamental and important.

Removal of the bituminous coal authority for northern West Virginia was recommended and malfeasance charged on the ground of improper selection, oppression of small enterprises by price-fixing without regard to grades of coal, and the use of office to attract business from railroads.

Find "Monopolistic Tendencies" Washington, May 21.—Of the eight NRA codes placed under the microscope of the Darrow review board, monopolistic tendencies and practices were found by the five members who signed the board's report.

In only one "service" code, that governing the cleaning and dyeing industry did the board fail to see a trend toward monopoly.

The other industries included in the report made public today, include motion pictures, bituminous coal, iron and steel, electrical manufacturing, ice, footwear of the rubber industry, and the retail solid fuel industry.

In regard to combinations under the NRA, Clarence Darrow, chairman of the board and his longtime law partner, William O. Thompson, declared in a supplementary brief:

"With the advent of the NRA it was expressly stated that industries would be permitted to combine to govern themselves and on the other hand administration of the codes adopted was put under control by these combinations. The anomaly arises from that form of administration that monopolistic combinations are expected to enforce against themselves a law to prevent monopoly. Moreover, the fact finding would reveal these violations of the law are also largely under control of the code authorities, that is under the industrial combinations.

"The dangers of monopoly which are inherent in the NRA cannot be revealed to the people of the United States, if cart-finding and enforcement are thus controlled by industrial combinations. To permit the NRA to carry these obligations is to expect violators of the law to sit in judgment upon and to condemn themselves."

Concerning the coal and steel codes examined, the board reported: "Monopolistic practices are marked in the bituminous coal industry because the code was made and its operation directed by agencies connected with the larger companies to their advantage and the disadvantage of the small enterprise."

"Monopolistic conditions have long existed in the steel industry, due to its absolute control by the larger companies. This control is assured through the iron and steel institute. The code has operated to augment the evils previously existing."

"The dominating power in the retail solid fuel industry is the National Retail Coal Dealers Association. The code was made and the code authority chosen by members of this association without due representation of coal dealers that were not members. The operation of the code thus made and administered tends to oppress the small enterprise."

on the arm by flying bits of the bomb.

Postal inspectors said the bomb was one of the most delicately clever devices of the sort they had ever examined, and was undoubtedly the work of an expert.

A trigger was so arranged as to be released when the package was opened. This movement turned a switch which hooked up a dry battery. Current from the battery brought a wire to white heat. This hot wire ignited the explosives and the explosion followed.

Mrs. Nellie Brooks gave an interesting review on national defense after which a spelling bee was enjoyed in connection with the celebration of the 100 years of free schools.

At pretty tables, each centered with a low bowl of yellow blooms and a large gold star, a dainty lunch was served and a period of informality featured.

Lovely bouquets of wild flowers, in yellow and orchid colors, were used as center pieces for each of nine small tables, with dainty place cards fanned in yellow celophane and tied with an orchid ribbon marking each place.

The after-luncheon hours were spent with bridge, 500, and various other games. The award for high score in bridge went to Mrs. Carolyn Lindsey, for 500, to Miss Eva Smith; and in the other games to Mrs. Bess Pond, Mrs. Leona Williams, of Aliquippa, was among the past matrons present.

Finishing School Brings New Screen Theme

AN EYEFUL—AN EARFUL—THAT EVEN WINCHELL
DOESN'T KNOW!

A Startling Glimpse
Behind the Walls of One of Our Smartest Schools.

Blazing a new trail in picture themes, RKO-Radio's "Finishing School," which came to the Regent Theatre today for 3 days engagement presents life behind the barred doors of certain types of ultra exclusive schools which mask their deficiencies behind a veneer of smartness and pretentiousness.

The picture also pillories selfish mothers who neglect their daughters in order to follow the social trail from party to party and from one fashionable resort to another.

The story, which deals with the experiences of a high-minded young girl who finds herself surrounded by deceit, hypocrisy and selfishness in the boarding school, is convincingly and grippingly unfolded. The girl finds love in the arms of a young medical student who is working his way through a post-graduate course, but she is kept from him by the social barriers raised by the school.

Her intimacy with the man she loves is discovered by the merciless head of the school and the girl is publicly denounced and expelled. From this point on the drama develops rapidly to a stirring denouement.

Frances Dee, Billie Burke, Ginger Rogers, Beulah Bondi and Bruce Cabot and John Halliday give splendid performances, and others in the large cast are adequate. The direction of Wanda Tuckock and George Nicholls, Jr., shows a sympathetic understanding of the delicate theme material they were given to picture. "Finishing School" is indeed one of the outstanding film stories of the year.

VANDALISM SEASON IS HERE

THE season is here when many ordinarily respectable men and women become vandals.

The woods and green fields, with their many blossoms and fragrant plants, exert an appeal especially hard for the city dweller, cooped up with cement and brick to resist. It is refreshing to get out into the open and drink in these beauties.

But there are many who can not resist the temptation to go much further by despoiling nature's handiwork. They uproot bushes and break off blossoming branches in order to enrich their home for a day or two with their refreshing fragrance. Some of these despoilers even invade private orchards to wrench from a tree a blooming branch. Others confine the quenching of their desire for blooms and shrubbery to the woods.

Neither class is justified in its acts. The woods as well as orchards are private property, and many farmers do not relish even their wild plants being ruthlessly taken without a thank you. They are justified in the resentment they feel and in the suspicion with which they regard these visitors from the city.

Many city dwellers seem to regard as non-existent the rights of private property in the country. They would not think of invading a neighbor's lawn for the purpose of uprooting and carrying off any of his plants or of carrying off armfuls of his flowers. Let them get into the country, though, and they have no moral scruples against thus despoiling the property of rural dwellers.

It's a form of vandalism that had its existence in the days of the buggy and horse and which has increased with use of the automobile.

There appears to be no effective way of stopping it short of employing guards to protect woods and fields, which would be an extreme step that farmers hesitate to take.

ENDING A FRAUD

Henceforth congressmen are to be barred from applauding themselves in the Record.

Under a ruling announced by Speaker Rainey, when unanimous consent is given by the house to a member to "revise and extend" his remarks in the Record this will not be taken to mean that he may insert "applause" where there was no applause.

It has been the practice of members at times to insert, under the unanimous-consent permit, entire speeches no word of which was spoken from the floor. The fact that the speech never was delivered, however, and no opportunity given for applause, did not prevent the authors sprinkling "applause" through it as published in the Record, the idea being to impress constituents to whom the speech is sent with the importance of their representative as reflected in the approval given the address.

Hereafter, this is not to be permitted. A member may "extend" his remarks, but if there has been no actual applause none is to be indicated in the published text.

The ruling is a sensible one and will protect from a fraudulent practice uninformed readers of the Congressional Record.

INTERSTELLAR TRAVEL

For years there have been men who dreamed of the day when it would be possible for man to make trips to the moon or even the planets. But these dreams have been indulged in chiefly by men whose practical accomplishments were few.

The most frequently suggested means of interstellar travel involved the use of rockets as the propulsion force. Within the last few years many experiments have been made in an effort to devise a rocket that offered promising possibilities. Little success, however, has been met, and the problem of interstellar travel remained largely in the realm of dreams.

But now there comes forward a scientist whose standing and achievements are sufficiently high to command respect for his views. He is Professor Auguste Piccard, the Belgian, who won renown with the trips of exploration into the stratosphere. He believes that trips between the earth and planets is not without the range of possibility. If this comes, he says, it will be not by means of rockets but as result of the discovery of the secret of disintegration of matter and use of the energy thus obtained. He believes that 120 pounds of lead would be sufficient to propel a machine from Earth to Mercury and return.

His theory is interesting mainly because it comes from a man who has had some practical experience in making dreams come true.

THEY NEVER GIVE UP

One of the things which make federal officers much more feared by the underworld than state officers is the relentlessness with which they go after their man.

State authorities as a general rule are inclined to drop a case after a considerable time has elapsed without results being achieved. Other cases occur to demand attention, or a change in officials may be a factor.

The federal government, however, follows the policy of never giving up. Public interest and even the interest of higher officials may wane, but the men in the field have orders to "get their man." This they do with remarkable consistency.

The relentlessness of their search is illustrated at present in two or three cases of more or less recent occurrence. The union station massacre in Kansas City occurred last June 17. In December of 1931, the country was shocked by the bloody Leavenworth prison break.

Reports that the department of justice had dropped these cases caused inquiry to be made the other day. Instead of dropping them, the department had sent out orders to "prove the fugitive dead or produce him." It was indicated that the search would be continued until this was done.

Eleven persons already are under indictment in the Kansas City massacre case. Three of these are dead, one is in a federal prison and six are free on bond. Only one is at large, but it is the determination of the government to bring him to justice before the case will be regarded as ended.

The work of department of justice agents has been greatly increased since the government undertook to assist the states in the war on kidnapers and other gangsters. This promises to be further added to through the enactment of bills now pending in congress.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

THE cards have been dealt. We've all made our bids. The contract is established. The opponent on my left has thought for a while and made his lead. Down go the dummy's 13 cards. I'm the bidder. The bid is "four spades", doubled and redoubled. It's my job, somehow, to take 10 of the 13 tricks. How am I going to do it?

They have the ace and king of hearts, but I haven't any hearts in my hand. That's why I redoubled, knowing the doubler expected to take at least one heart trick or perhaps two. The first lead is the heart king and I trump it. I take out all the trumps. My partner has some strong diamonds in dummy. I go over there and play them, discarding all but one losing club on them. On the thirteenth trick I surrender a losing club, but I make six spades, 12 tricks in all. . . . I have, in fact, made a small slam, but it doesn't count. In this game you must bid for a small slam or you don't get it. It's not like auction bridge, where you get all you make. This is contract, where you must say in advance how many tricks you intend to make.

So I feel humiliated. Somehow or other, because I had no hearts in my hand I should have known I had a good chance of making 12 tricks. I might as well quit this game. I'll probably never learn to play it properly. I'll always be making the wrong lead, discarding the wrong card, making the wrong bid, never get all that I should out of my cards. Then why don't I quit?

Why don't I QUIT? . . . Because that would be a silly thing to do. I LIKE THE GAME, that's why. Even if I never get the complete hang of it, I'll always like it. I win an occasional victory. Once in a while I have a chance to pat myself on the back. I don't always make silly mistakes. . . . It's not so different from life. You don't quit life just because you make a few mistakes, because you don't reach the peak of your development in one little interlude of living. Life isn't all fun either. You make such silly mistakes in living. You bid wrong in that, too. Throw away high cards. Underestimate or overestimate your power. Miscalculate your partner and are misled by him and suffer humiliations. . . . But as long as you're getting something out of it you continue to play that game, too. . . . and hope to do better next time. . . . That's why I wouldn't think of quitting!

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JUST BOYS—BUT!

A sea faring man was coming home from a duck dinner one morning, during his college days, and his route lay along the San Francisco waterfront. What was his surprise to see coming toward him a working man nonchalantly bearing upon his shoulder a tree trunk, about 18 feet long and two feet through! Obviously it weighed a ton.

He remembers screaming just before he collapsed, and resolving not to drink any more duck dinners. They worked over him for weeks, says he, and when the faint spark of life had been fanned back into a flicker they told him it was balsa wood on that man's shoulder.

Balsa wood, all builders of model aircraft know, comes from tropical South America. It weighs half as much as cork, and one-seventh as much as mahogany is one reason why model airplanes fly better than grand pianos. Balsa, rubber, glue, tissue paper and "dope" are the elements upon which "The Cligones" are founded; (Continued On Page Six)

DO YOU PRY INTO YOUR NEIGHBOR'S AFFAIRS?

When the children of neighbors come into your home, do you endeavor to procure family information from them?

What a despicable thing to do! In their innocence, it is easy for you, asking certain questions, to learn from children matters which are none of your business.

Unless you wish to circulate unfavorable gossip, why should you desire to probe the children?

While it is said that fools and children tell the truth, what a child tells about his home cannot always be relied upon.

There may be some foundation of truth in what children tell of what takes place within their homes. It is at least enough to give gossiping persons sufficient upon which to build choice morsels for loosely hung tongues.

Parents of young children should be careful of what they discuss in their presence.

It is surprising how much a child, apparently paying little attention to a conversation, can repeat later.

In most neighborhoods there are people who court children to learn something about their parents and what is said and done in their homes.

France To Make Debt Move? Is Pennsylvania A Consolation? As Readers See The NRA

By LESLIE EICHEL Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 21.—According to word coming to New York, France will reconsider and offer a payment on its war debt. In fact, President Roosevelt may get well along during the summer on settlement of the disturbing debt problem.

VICTORY OR DEFEAT?

The debate continues to rage whether Governor Gifford Pinchot's defeat by Senator David A. Reed for the Republican senatorial nomination in Pennsylvania was a blow to the Roosevelt administration, or not. Administration supporters are confident, rather, that the Pinchot defeat means simply Roosevelt supporters went over to the Democratic ticket and did not vote for either the progressive or the conservative Republican.

Joseph F. Guffey, who bagged the Democratic senatorial nomination, had as his campaign slogan, "I'm for Roosevelt."

FROM READERS

Our readers once more call matters to our attention.

Says a resident of a large city: "Owing to the continued strikes and demands of labor, the B—s had to liquidate their pie baking business. And now Mr. B— at middle age, will need to seek some other line."

Another person writing from an Indiana factory town says: "The NRA is a joke in the big factory of this town—an auto plant. Men are pushed harder than ever—because costs have gone up. That is the excuse. No man dares stop during the day's furious pace, no man dares complain. He is blacklisted if he does. I have seen men injured, and get no compensation, because of threats and fear. The man with mouths to feed is a worse slave than ever. Competition and mass production are the altar on which we are being sacrificed."

KING CORN

Corn is likely to be king this year. Much has been made of the wheat failure. But corn is growing with increased vigor.

Scientists still have not learned all the uses to which evidently corn can be put.

The cotton crop, too, is large enough to cause prices to drop later.

MOLEY

Raymond Moley, not Rexford Twigg, again is Brain Trustee No. 1.

It is rumored both in New York and Washington that Moley's word is going a long way at the White House these days—whereas Twigg seldom is at the White House. Moley is said to realize he was somewhat headstrong on the London trip last year. He is likely to have a guiding voice when congress adjourns.

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE

Word that President Roosevelt would send to congress within a few days a message embodying the most far-reaching program of social and economic reform ever submitted to congress caused two immediate reactions in New York.

Wall Street confirmed its belief that the president was determined to go through with social reforms and thus classified him once more as "going to the left."

Labor, on the other hand, expressed bitter disappointment that all the plans—which have been plans for labor years—were to be put off till the next session of congress. Labor points out that the so-called far-reaching social measures now are accepted merely as basic laws in even some of the most conservative countries.

STABILIZATION

Europe seems certain that the United States will stabilize its currency.

Wall Street is not so certain. Prices are tending to drop. Wall Street looks for further devaluation of the dollar.

International bankers look askance at that. They fear such a move would bring further dislocation of trade—and put off actual recovery for a long time to come.

MINUTE BIGG

Although Henry T. Rainey, speaker of the national house of representatives, represents an Illinois district comprising 10 counties, his district is the most sparsely settled in the state. In 1930 it had a population of 158,262. The average for districts is more than 200,000.

Rainey's majorities, however, have been consistently high for a Democrat in an ordinarily Republican state. His recent re-nomination indicates his re-election.

Rainey can tell one how much damage a drought does to farms. His occupation is farming. He owns and lives on one near Carrollton, in the southwestern part of Illinois—much nearer to St. Louis than to Chicago.

But the speaker is a lawyer, too. He first was graduated from Amherst college, Massachusetts, in 1883, with an A. B. degree; three years later the college gave him an A. M. degree. In the meantime, in 1885, Rainey had been graduated from the law department of Northwestern University, Chicago.

Rainey has served in congress 15 terms. It would have been 16 straight terms if he had not failed of election one term.

TODAY Is The Day

MONDAY, MAY 21

Memorable Days, May 21, 1542—Hernando De Soto, first European discoverer and explorer of the Mississippi, died at the age of 41 of malaria fever, after 250 other members of his party had perished of the same ailment. His discovery became his grave! His body was sunk beneath the waters at the junction of the Red river and the Mississippi, below where he had first seen it in May, 1541.

May 21, 1832—The first convention of the Democratic party, as the Democratic party, opened at Baltimore, for a second term as President, to nominate its nominee for his first term as a Republican!

Here was born the famous "two-thirds" rule that has been the insurmountable barrier to nomination for many a Democratic hopeful: "Resolved, that two-thirds of the whole number of votes in the convention shall be necessary to constitute a choice."

Martin Van Buren was nominated for Vice President in place of the incumbent John C. Calhoun at Jackson's dictation. Reason: the Calhouns had refused to entertain the President's good friend, red-haired Peggy Eaton.

(Nominated to oppose Jackson by the right wing of the cloven Republican party was Henry Clay, who was twice defeated for the Presidency and said, "I would rather be right than President.")

May 21, 1881—The American Red Cross was founded in Washington, D. C., by Miss Clara Barton, aged 35, fifteen years after the United States government had refused to recognize the Red Cross!

Despite her country's refusal to participate in the international Red Cross agreement, she went to Europe and organized military hospitals during the Franco-Prussian war, was given an Iron Cross by the German emperor.

Miss Barton changed the whole nature of the organization as it had been conceived in Europe in 1864. There is was purely warriors' aid corps; she turned it into the good samaritan of peaceful times, made Red Cross relief in famines, floods, earthquakes, plagues and conflagrations something to be relied upon.

Little known is the fact that she left the Red Cross, organized a similar body, the National First Aid of America.

May 21, 1927—An American became the world's hero: Charles A. Manson, known as Lindbergh, landed in Paris after having been blown across the Atlantic by cyclonic winds faster than his plane could fly unaided!

(On the fifth anniversary of his arrival in Paris, Amelia Earhart landed in Ireland after having been the first woman to make a solo flight across the ocean.)

Now far along in adult life. Borne whosoever the winds have fanned him.

Cascade Park Stone Entrance Being Rushed

City Engineer Says Work
Will Be Completed
By May 30

Stone entrance from East Washington Street to Cascade Park will be completed before Memorial day, according to City Engineer Harry Hoskins, who made an inspection tour through the different city owned parks, Saturday.

Construction of the stone entrance has already got under way and when completed it will be one of the finest looking entrances in this section.

Black Oak drive, which leads from Cascade to Cunningham Park also is being improved. Stone walls are being built against the embankment where a deep cut was made.

In Cunningham Park ashes have been placed on the various high-ways and unless one visits the park he cannot get a real idea the development plan.

Comfort stations, of stone material, are being constructed and athletic fields have been laid out. It is planned to also build a clubhouse in which there will be concessions.

In Gaston Park an arched bridge of stone has been built and a stone entrance built at Lyndal Street. Other improvements are also under way.

Guntown Park has been improved and no doubt will be visited by many persons who wish to obtain a sight of what the workers have done.

Cascade boulevard has been treated with calcium chloride and is now one of the finest drives in this section.

On June 10 in the Harbison Memorial Chapel of the school, Dr. Lewis S. Mudge, of Philadelphia, Stated Clerk of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church and its former moderator will preach the baccalaureate sermon.

Dr. Mudge is a graduate of 1899 of Princeton University, and four years later of its theological seminary.

Dr. Harold Dods, president of Princeton will be here if possible for the reunion of his class, 1909. Dr. Dods is a son of Dr. Samuel Dods, for many years a member of the college faculty. The class of 1913 will hold their 21st reunion. Other classes plan reunions of a decade to quarter century.

Probe Of Pottery Industry Ordered

Investigation To Start Because Of Complaint Of NRA Restrictions

IMPORTS CAUSE WORRY IN AMERICA

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent
New Castle News

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21.—An immediate investigation by the United States Tariff commission of the household pottery tableware industry has been ordered by President Roosevelt.

The inquiry will be made on recommendation of NRA Administrator Hugh S. Johnson. It was urged by General Johnson because the United States Pottery association complained to him that imports are on such terms or under such conditions as to seriously endanger the maintenance of the NRA code for the pottery industry in this country.

Imports come principally from Japan, Great Britain and Germany. Although the total volume of imports is lower now than in pre-depression days, the imports of highly-competitive articles, such as inexpensive cups and saucers, probably have increased in relation to domestic production, according to the NRA.

HEART DISEASE

FATAL TO MANY

Heart disease continued as the leading cause of death during the month of January in Lawrence county, figures compiled by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Department of Health reveal.

During January 15 died from this cause, 10 of cerebral hemorrhage, six from cancer, four each from nephritis and pneumonia, and one from tuberculosis.

AROUND CITY HALL

Within a few days arrangements will have been made for registering property owners who wish to help resurface city streets and alleys. The property owners will receive half their wages in cash and the other half will be applied to back taxes.

After years of delay Cedar street will be resurfaced. This will be good news to seventh ward residents. Years ago the street car company resurfaced their portion of the street but the city failed to resurface its portion. However, it will be done in June.

It is reported that City Engineer Harry Hoskins intends to experiment on a dirt road within the city limits. He intends to have ashes placed on some dirt street then treat it with calcium chloride. If it holds up the time may come when citizens will stop putting oil on their streets and pay the city to spread calcium chloride.

This is the time of year when city employees' thoughts turn toward vacation period and within the near future employees of two departments, fire and police, will conduct drawings out of which will come a date when a fireman can lay down his helmet and a policeman unpin his badge for a couple of weeks. Firemen and police receive their wages. Their duties are arranged in such a manner it is not necessary to employ extra men.

The clubhouse at the city golf course is being remodelled. A beautiful porch is to be erected. A fancy cut stone will help to set it off. Meanwhile the building is being painted inside and no doubt the exterior will be touched up.

Comfort stations are being constructed at Cunningham park. It will be necessary to lay a water line from Wilson avenue. It is said a beautiful clubhouse is also proposed. The development plan is somewhat gigantic and it is hoped that it is finished before the RWD is discontinued.

Gardeners are busy at the sewage disposal plant grounds, plots having been allotted sometime ago. Anyone who receives a lot signs an agreement that if he steals from another garden he loses his plot. So far it is said no one who has a garden there has violated the agreement.

The boulevard between Cascade park and Hamilton street and the beautiful trees are not the only attractions out that way. There are some gardens and judging from a look at the soil excellent crops will be grown.

Episcopals Plan Social Service Program For Public

The Rev. P. C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church of this city, will go to Sharon Friday, May 25, to attend a meeting at which there will be a discussion on Christian Social Service.

The topics to be discussed are "Present and Future Trends in Public Relief"; "The Church and the New Leisure"; "Social Reform Under the Industrial Codes and the Conservative Reaction" and "Problems of Relief".

The Christian Social Service endorsed many of the social welfare measures before the last legislature and participated in the education campaign, which resulted in favorable action.

The world is divided into 73 nations, counting the entire British Empire as a unit.

"Building a Canal—or Buying a Car"—good Engineering Counts

A CERTIFIED INTERVIEW WITH CONSTRUCTION ENGINEER FRANK VIOLETTE, PANAMA CANAL ZONE ★ ★

"We punish cars in this tough spot. But let me tell you how my Plymouth takes it."

FRANK VIOLETTE is a modest man. He talks little about his part in the supervision of Panama's construction work. But ask him about cars...

"Up in the States, you test cars in man-made sand pits," he told us. "In the Canal Zone, our everyday driving proves how a car takes punishment. I've found that of all low-priced cars, Plymouth stands up best."

And Mr. Violette isn't surprised that Plymouth proved to be the strongest. As an engineer, he knows that steel reinforced with steel is the safest form of construction.

"I've given my Plymouth some terrific beatings," he says. "But its Safety-Steel Body is still as quiet and tight as the day it left the factory."

Some people who read this story will stop right here. They are the people who think that a Safety-Steel Body isn't necessary for ordinary driving.

It isn't... all of the time. But nobody can forever trust the "other fellow's" driving. That's why Plymouth engineers built extra safety into Plymouth... and equipped it with the safest kind of brakes... the Hydraulic Brakes you'll find on trucks and taxis.

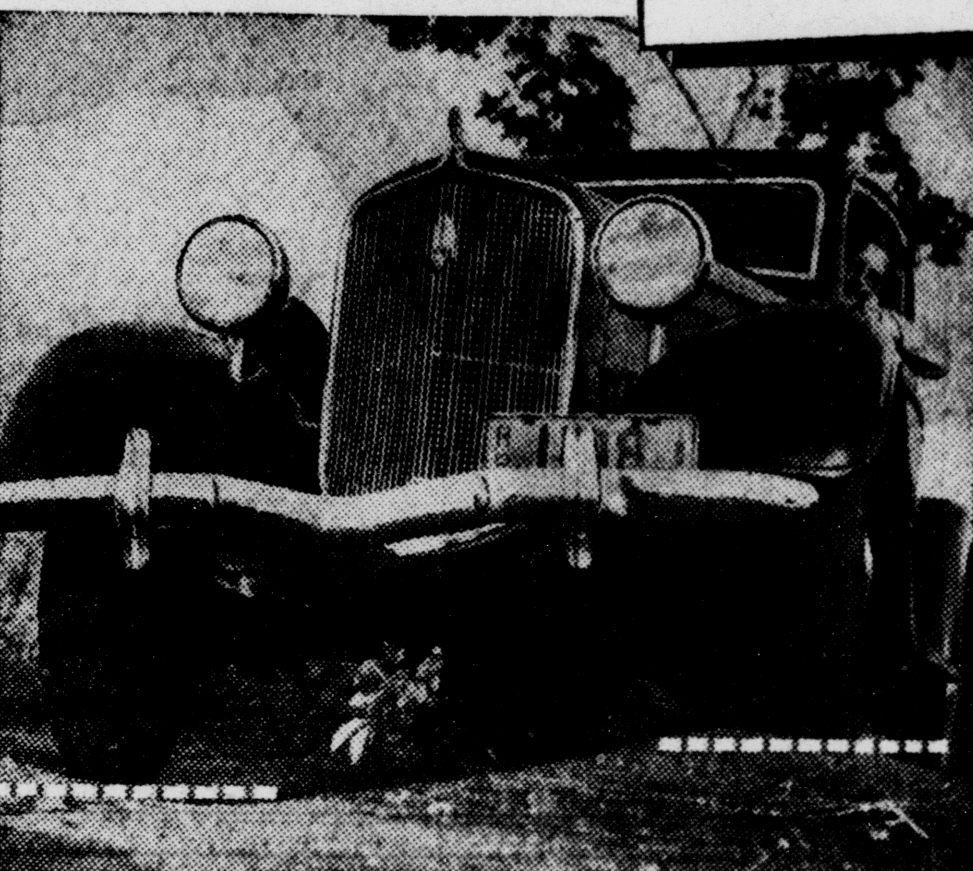

It takes Plymouth to give you complete protection in every driving emergency. And it takes Plymouth, too, to give you complete comfort under all possible driving conditions.

EVEN AT HIGH speeds, its patented Floating Power engine mountings deaden motor vibration. Even on the roughest roads, its Individual Wheel Springing carries you smoothly.

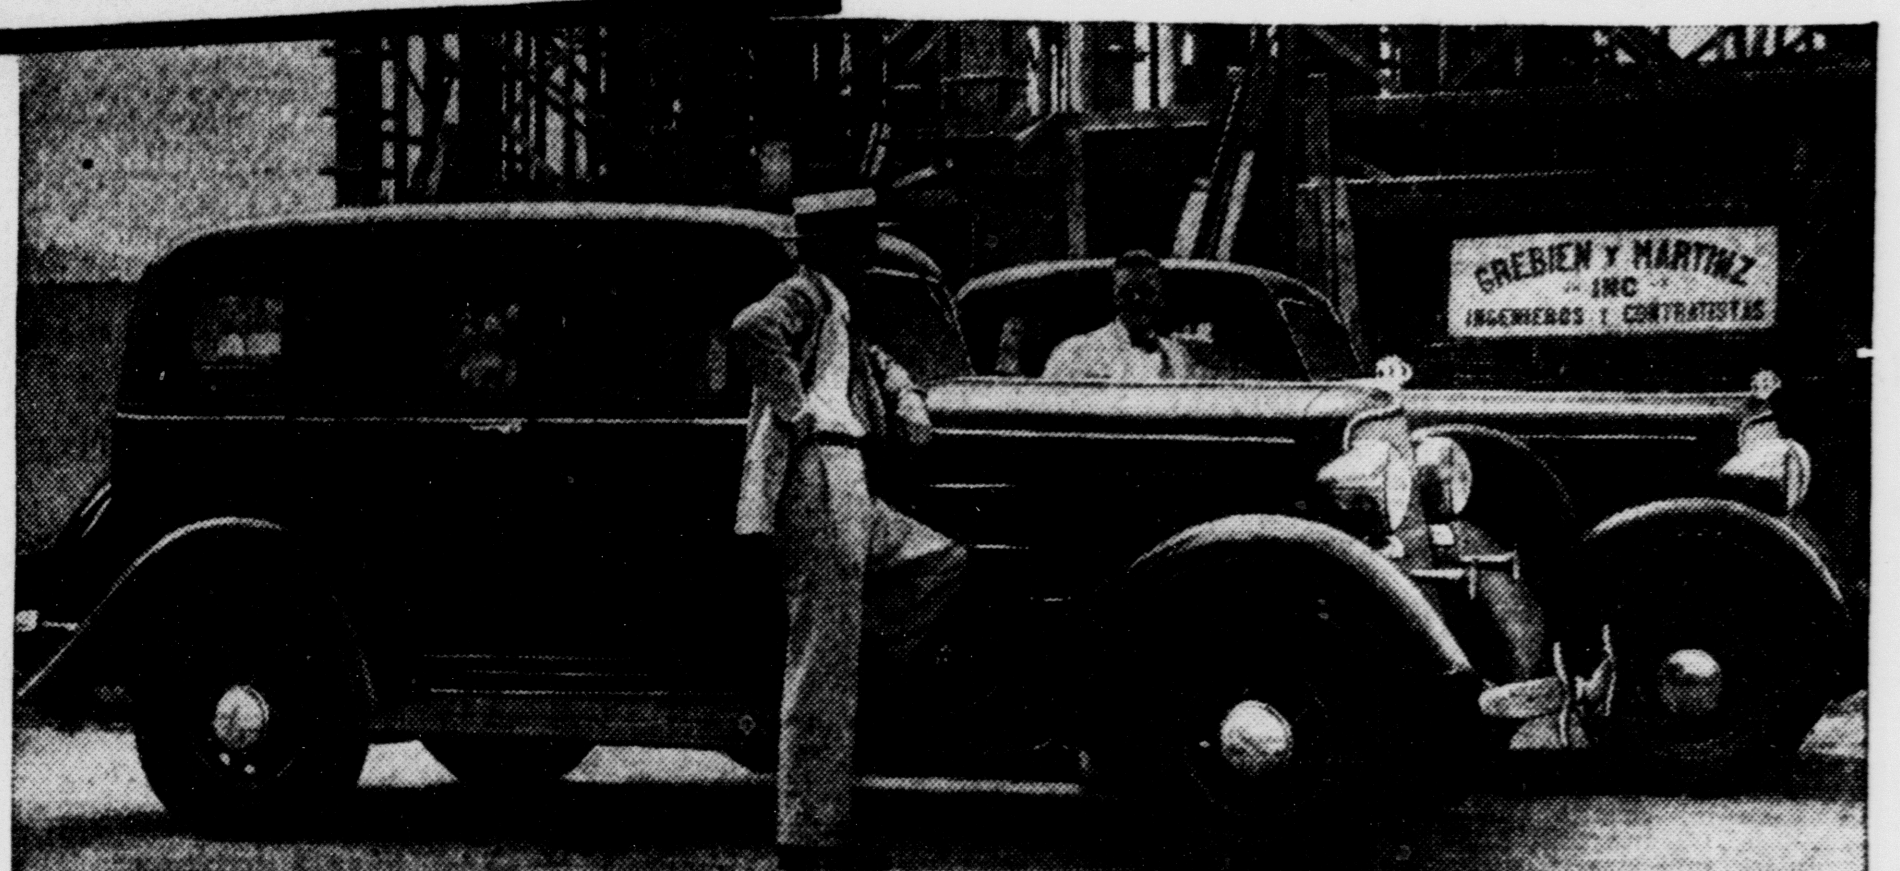

Try the other low-priced cars. And then ride in Plymouth. Any Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer will arrange it.

"We depend on steel for safety in the Canal and in our buildings down here. We've found it's positive proof against everything from earthquakes to termites. So I knew that, in a car, a Safety-Steel Body would be the very strongest. That was one of Plymouth's features that sold me the hardest."

"Some of our roads weren't built for comfort. But my Plymouth was. Its Individual Wheel Springing levels off the bumps. And its Hydraulic Brakes keep me out of many unexpected mud holes. In fact, there are no anxious moments for me even when I drive off the roads, 'cross country'."

Mr. Violette and Mr. Martinez, President of the construction company with which Mr. Violette is associated, each with his De Luxe Plymouth. Plymouth prices begin at $530 at the factory, subject to change without notice. Time payments to fit your budget. Ask for the Official Chrysler Motors Commercial Credit Plan. Bond of Constable Joseph H. Wilson, of Big Beaver township, in the sum of $750, for collection of the state and county tax was approved by the court Saturday.

Upon a petition presented by Wayne township citizens, at court Saturday Judge R. L. Hildebrand appointed Peter J. Tillia township auditor. J. C. Cunningham was elected to the position, but could not serve on account of being tax collector.

Calvin Wright of Slippery Rock township has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Sheriff Edward Pritchard has levied on personal property of Wright and expected to hold a sale on May 23, but received word this morning of the bankruptcy petition, which supercedes the sheriff's sale, so that it will not be held.

Upon a petition presented to court by Joseph Heaney, trustee under the will of the late E. J. O'Brien, Mr. Heaney has been authorized to make a sale of part of land owned by the late E. J. O'Brien and located in Allegheny county. The sale has been made to Mary E. Wilson, of Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh.

Pasquale Caruso, of 918 Third St., Ellwood City, was at the prothonotary's office Saturday where he secured a passport for a contemplated trip to Italy. Considerable data is necessary to fill out an application for a passport. It must also carry a late photograph of the person to whom it is issued. Owing to the financial situations very few passports have been issued during the past two years.

When visitors appear to be lukewarm on the question of a new court house, county officials take them to the basement, where they open the chamber of horrors and point out a wagon load of dilapidated old books that look as though they might have come from Noah's Ark. There may be a few of the books containing important data, but the majority of them ought to have been burned years ago, as there is nothing in them of any value either here or in the hereafter. For years the sheriff's office has been encumbered with another wagon load of old assessment books. They are no use to anybody except as relics of the past yet they have taken up room that has been needed for live data. Happily they were removed to the boiler house when an agent of the state checked them over last winter. This check was not for the purpose of finding out anything but merely to help out the unemployment situation through a Harrisburg historical bureau. Up in the belfry there is another wagon load of books that are probably of little value. What the future holds in store for this array of relics nobody is able to prophesy, but it is hoped that it may be consigned to a tomb instead of a vault in the new court house.

George M. Mallory, a farmer of Big Beaver township, has filed a suit against the Pennsylvania Power Company in which he asks for $25,000, as a result of a peculiar accident. There is a power line passing along Mallory's farm. It is claimed that one of the wires became loose and was allowed to dangle in the wind. On September 21, 1932, Mr. Mallory was out husking corn in a field adjoining the power line when he accidentally came in contact with the wire while pulling over a shock of corn. He was severely burned and claims that he has been permanently injured. Negligence on the part of the power company, is alleged in the state of claim.

Court Order In The Estate
Of Jacob Levine

In the estate of Jacob Levine, deceased, late of the second ward, Joseph Levine, filed a petition in court this morning, asking that Meyer Levine, to whom letters of administration were issued, be required to collect rents on properties left by decedent, and apply the proceeds to paying taxes and interest on indebtedness.

The petitioner holds a judgment against the estate for $12,000, with interest due from August 28th, 1929. It is also alleged that there are taxes against the estate in arrears. The indebtedness of the estate is estimated at a total of $50,000. The inventory shows $1,072.64 personal property and the balance of the estate, which is quite large, tied up in real estate. At the present time it is impossible to realize on the realty, but it is contended by the petitioner that the rents should be applied to taxes and interest until such a time as the realty market becomes more active.

Judge James A. Chambers made an order requiring the administrator to comply with the prayer of the petitioner.

Obsolete Street Cars Are Sold

New Castle Street Electric Railway officials have sold seven street cars which they consider obsolete. It was learned today.

The cars were sold to a junk dealer here.

It was reported today that after the dealer obtains what he wants from the cars they will be sold again.

Some of the cars will be used for "cabins," it was reported. Once upon a time they were purchased and used as "lunch wagons." There are now few of them used for that purpose hereabouts.

Japan To Build Three New Ships

Japanese Will Start Construction In 1935 Of Three Aircraft Carriers

(International News Service)
TOKYO, May 21.—The recent frequent naval parity demands by Japanese statesmen were reflected in today's announcement by the newspaper Nichi Nichi that Japan next year will begin the construction of three 10,000-ton aircraft carriers.
Since Japan already has 66,870 tons in this type of vessel and is allowed only 81,000 under the terms of the London naval treaty, the new craft would bring her total aircraft-carrier tonnage to nearly 18,000 tons over the limits to which she agreed a few years ago.
This treaty will expire next year, so the construction of the ships will not violate the pact.

SEE THREAT TO CONGRESS ADJOURNMENT JUNE 5

Veterans' Bloc Menaces Plan

Effort To Force Bonus Vote In Senate May Delay Adjournment

ADMINISTRATION OPPOSES MOVE

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A move by the veterans' bloc to force a senate vote on the bonus issue today threatened to upset the administration's plans for adjourning congress June 5.

Final enactment of tariff, silver, housing, bank deposit insurance and farm licensing legislation constituted the administration program for the 14 remaining legislative days. If the bonus bill were added to this program, the adjournment date might be postponed another week.

Any delay in adjournment would give the house liberals more time in which to force a vote on the McLeod bill, paying off depositors in closed banks. The administration has fought desperately against a vote on this measure. Similarly, it has buried the bonus in the senate finance committee.

Put Democrats "In Hole."

The president and his leaders fear both measures would be enacted if they come to a vote. In that event, they would have to veto both and while his veto undoubtedly would be sustained, scores of faithful Democratic legislators would be forced to vote against popular measures just on the eve of their campaigns for reelection.

The tariff bill now being debated, may be passed this week.

Silver legislation will be proposed this week in a presidential message to congress. Its enactment is assured.

The A. A. A. licensing bill will face stiff opposition. It probably will pass because of the Republicans weak minorities in both houses of congress.

In the fact of this protracted program, administration leaders insist upon adjournment by June 5. Observers fail to see how this goal can be achieved.

Uncle Sam — Chestnut Puller?
Dillinger Back On Page 1.
Imaginary Sherlock Holmes.
335,000 Dogs Too Many.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

LOS ANGELES, May 20. SIR JOHN SIMON, British foreign secretary, says Great Britain will not undertake to preserve China's territorial integrity or her "open door" and will not participate in any action "against Japan or any other power in other parts of the world unless the United States gives its full co-operation."

You ask yourself:
"When did Uncle Sam volunteer as world wide policeman and chief chestnut-puller-out for the British empire?"

MR. DILLINGER, or somebody with a face like his, scarred as his face is scarred, returns to the front page, with machine guns, swift "get-away" automobile, gangster retinue, "fearless blonde moll" and all.

On this latest occasion, place, Flint, Michigan, he holds up the Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank, driving off with a wave of the hand, taking "between $25,000 and $100,000" as a souvenir.

YOUR LOS ANGELES Examiner reporters desiring to please an older man, headed an article:

"Brisbane gets credit for catching Stoddard."

Brisbane doesn't deserve any credit, and therefore does not want it. The young reporters discovered that Brisbane, Sheriff Biscailuz and Capt. Bright, chief of the homicide squad, conspired to get from the kidnappers the name of the owner of the Ford V-eight car found in the garage of the kidnaper at La Cresenta, and thus identify a fourth kidnaper.

BRISBANE IS supposed to have proceeded with ten times the genius of any Sherlock Holmes, to "construct a psychological trap."

"The trap was set, Captain Bright was quick to take advantage of the moment, demanded, 'who owns that car?'" and "before he knew what he was doing, Kirk blurted out Stoddard's name."

THUS HISTORY is written. Captain Bright, a good policeman and detective, evidently did get Stoddard's name by putting his question at the right moment, but nobody had mentioned any Ford V-eight or any "psychological trap" to Brisbane, or anything about any "fourth man Stoddard." All the Sherlock Holmes credit must go to Captain Bright and Sheriff Biscailuz.

IN NEW YORK CITY apartment houses gentlemen and ladies keep 335,000 dogs, each dog carrying germs in its fur, a majority of place as would be 335,000 cows on New York City roofs.

General O'Ryan, New York Police Commissioner, announces, wisely: "Owners of the 335,000 dogs will keep them muzzled and on a leash, or their master will come to court."

You can't keep a cow in New York or drive her through the streets, although a cow would not bite anybody, and would give milk. Why keep 335,000 dogs?

POOR UNHAPPY S. J. Winner, only thirty-eight years old, living not far from here, wrote:

"Dear wife and family: (You know what is coming) I am sorry, but I have been no good to you or anyone else. Take good care of the little ones, Ada, they are wonderful."

He wrote "to Uncle Billy":

"I owe Mike eighty-four cents for gas. Please pay it as soon as you can. Get in touch with Victor. I think he will put me away."

Then he took the poison strychnine, screamed in pain, and died apparently. Dr. A. D. Trotter injected adrenalin, gave heavy doses of sodium amylol, a heart stimulant. The discouraged heart returned to life again, and went on beating for three hours.

Then the strychnine won the fight and there was no more heart beat.

The great Socrates, dying of hemlock poisoning, said conscientiously, "we owe a cock to Aesculapius," and asked that the debt be paid.

The poor failure of 1934, about to die of strychnine poisoning, writes, "I owe 84 cents for gas" and asks that his debt be paid. They are equals now.

IN THE NOBLE world of "sport", which fills so many American pages and occupies the intellects of millions except when they are listening to the radio or sleeping, the noble red man easily adopts the white man's "sport ethics."

In New Orleans, Tommy Marvin, Indian wrestler, was wrestling with Chief Chewicki, also Indian. "Clamping a chin lock on the chief, Marvin calmly filled Chewicki's eye with tobacco juice." Chewicki, confronted by "a condition, not a theory," conceded the fall.

It is almost a pleasure to read farther on "Chewicki won the last two falls and the bout by knocking Marvin unconscious."

Seminar Closes Week Of Study

Dr. R. H. Martin Of Pittsburgh Discloses Interesting Facts About Churches

Dr. R. H. Martin, formerly president of Geneva college and now president of the National Reform association, conducted a seminar last week in the Central Presbyterian church in the interests of the Christian Sabbath.

The open forum method was used in the meetings, with 13 churches of the city represented by some of the leaders of Bible classes and others interested in Christian work.

In conducting a survey of the churches of New Castle Dr. Martin found, from the church year books and records of officials, that the estimated values of the church buildings and grounds of 45 churches in the city is $4,299,000 and the expenditures of these churches in the past year amounted to $293,853. In estimating the cost of character building as supplied by the churches he asserted that $633,753 was the amount, and this does not include the large number who render services gratis on the Lord's Day.

When the church, a non-profit institution, gives this service to the entire community without public expense, Dr. Martin maintains that it should be given the right of way on the Lord's Day and that it is inconceivable and unfair for commercial amusements, sports and other business interests, not in business to build character, but to make money, to carry on their businesses on this day, having six days of the week to carry on.

In concluding his report he said: "We ask for the church and other character building agencies, a square deal on the Lord's Day."

Miss Stockman's Own Teacher At Reception

Mrs. Levina J. Durant, Of Chestnut Street, To Attend, And Extend Greetings

In connection with the public reception which will be held next Thursday evening, May 24, at Arthur McGill school on Albert street, for Miss Kate Stockman, one of New Castle's best known teachers, who is retiring from the school system at the end of this term, it is interesting to note that among the honored guests who will bring greetings to Miss Stockman will be Mrs. Levina J. Durant of 745 Chestnut street, who was Miss Stockman's own first school teacher.

Mrs. Durant is one of the pioneer residents of this city and is now in the neighborhood of ninety years of age. Her children in turn, have been pupils of Miss Stockman.

Arrangements are rapidly being completed for this affair which will be a leading one of the coming week. Many prominent out of town guests will be here to show honor to Miss Stockman, and a most interesting program of entertainment will follow the reception, scheduled for 8 o'clock.

DIPHThERIA RATE HERE IS LOW ONE

Only five cases of diphtheria were reported in the entire county during 1933, the records of the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Pennsylvania Department of Health reveal.

There was not a single death from this cause during the year, revealing the value of toxin-antitoxin as a preventive measure.

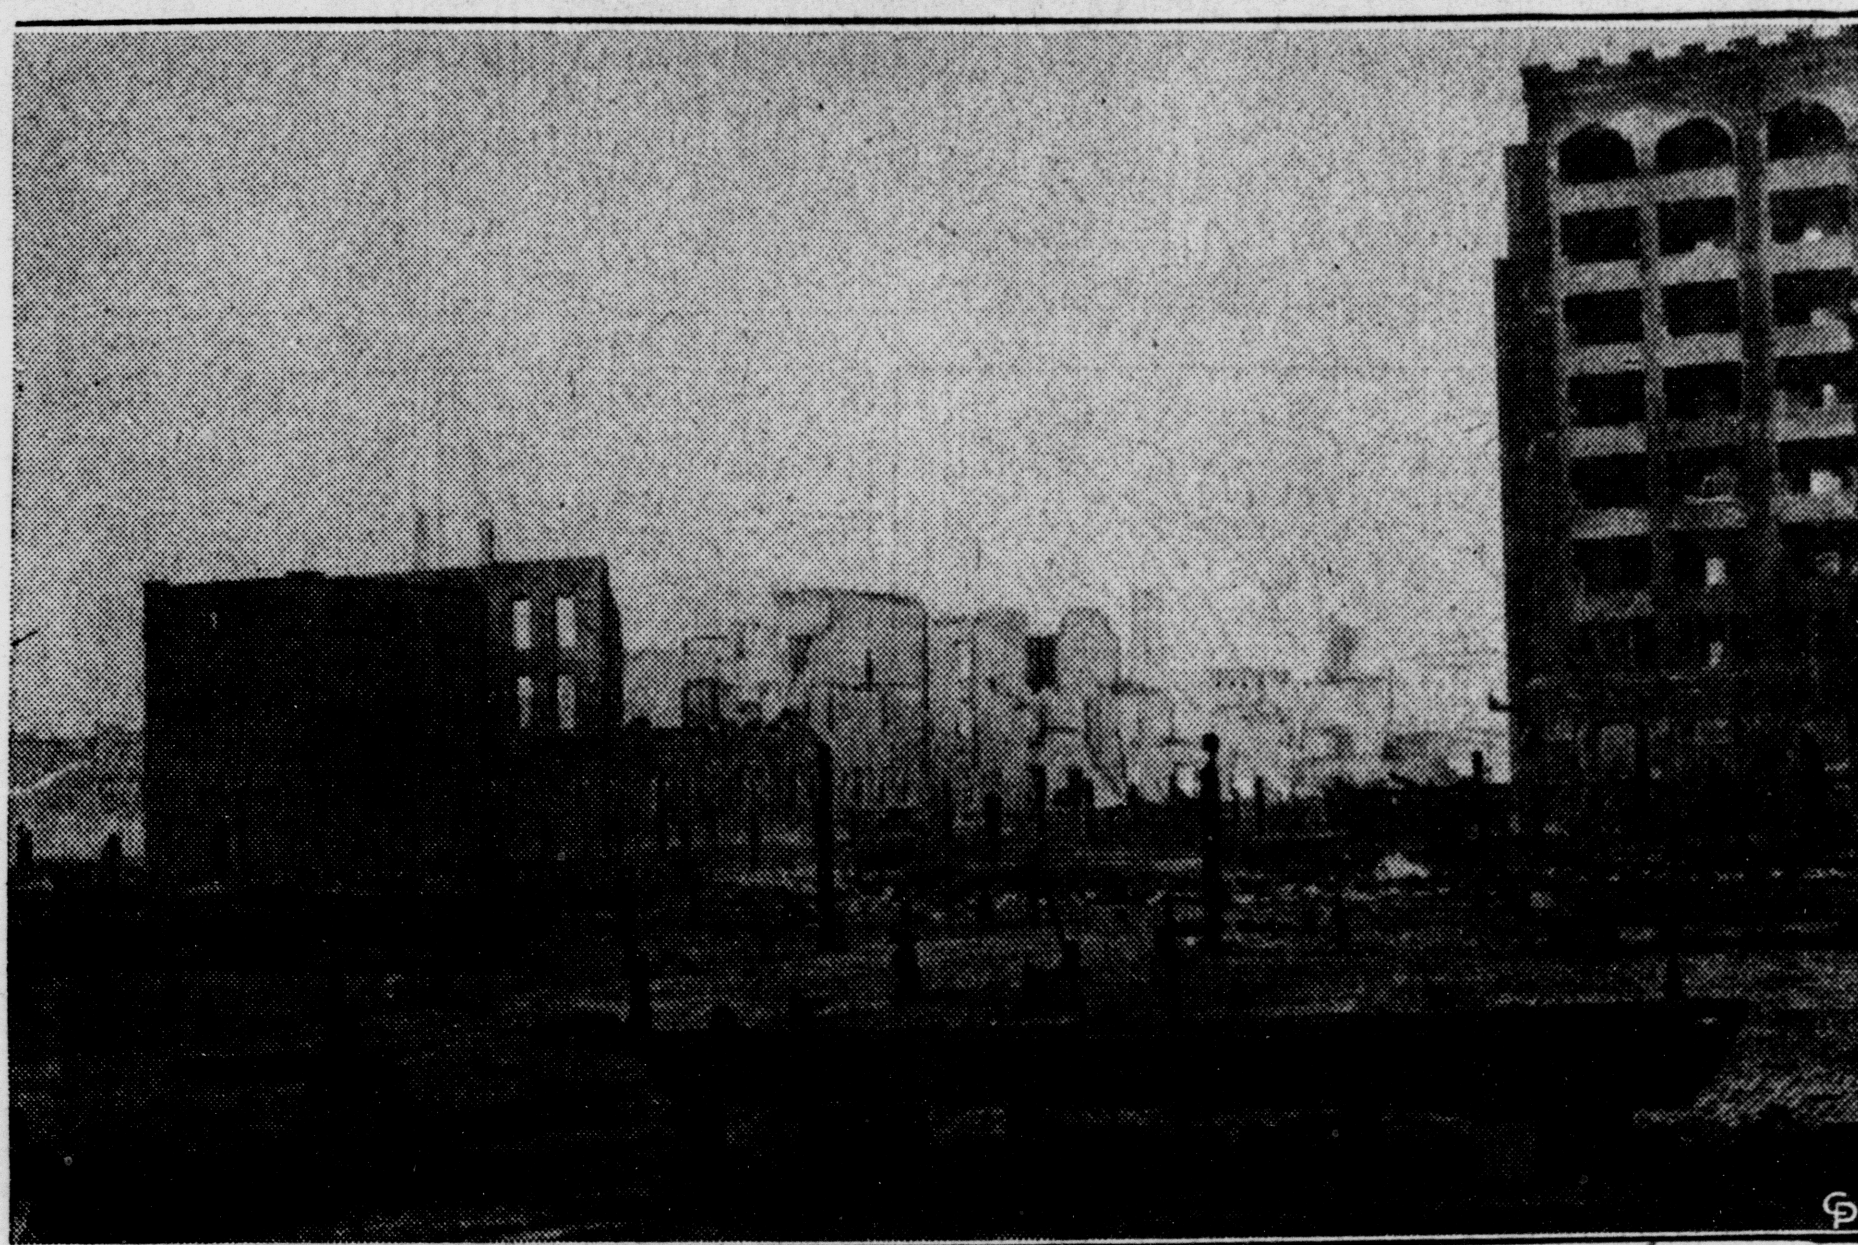

Three hundred and thirty-five thousand dogs in New York City apartment houses are as completely out of place as would be 335,000 cows on New York City roofs.

General O'Ryan, New York Police Commissioner, announces, wisely: "Owners of the 335,000 dogs will keep them muzzled and on a leash, or their master will come to court."

You can't keep a cow in New York or drive her through the streets, although a cow would not bite anybody, and would give milk. Why keep 335,000 dogs?

As Chicago Took "Morning After" Look At Ruins

Scenes like this were viewed by early risers in the packing house district of Chicago following the most disastrous fire in the history of the city since the great conflagration of 1871, and which caused an estimated damage of $15,000,000. This view was taken looking west on the ruins of the Armour offices and the gutted Live Stock exchange, shown to the right in the photo. Twenty-five persons were injured in the blaze, which for a time threatened to sweep the city. Two thousand were left homeless.

Silver Message For Congress Is Completed Today

President Roosevelt Prepares Special Message On Silver Establishment

THREE MESSAGES ARE UNCOMPLETED

By Edward B. Lockett
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—President Roosevelt today completed and prepared to send to congress a special message sanctioning mandatory establishment of silver as 25 percent of the nation's metallic currency reserve.

In addition to this, the message will recommend permissive provisions authorizing the secretary of the treasury to nationalize the white metal when and if he sees fit, taking over free silver stocks at 50 cents an ounce.

Most important of all, from a long time standpoint of view, the communication is expected to re-state the administration's monetary policies, and chart the course for the future. Previous steps, in connection with both gold and silver will be revived, and their effects in light of subsequent developments analyzed. Sources close to the executive described the forthcoming message as one which would outline Mr. Roosevelt's ideas for board improvement of the nation's currency policy.

Goes For Cruise

The document was drafted by the president during his week-end cruise on the Potomac in the government yacht Sequoia. Mr. Roosevelt expects to send it to the capitol hill today.

Delivery of the silver message to congress will leave but three scheduled messages yet to go to the legislative bodies from the white house during the present session. A message on foreign debts, one recommending repeal of the three cents a pound tax on coconut oil contained in the recently enacted revenue bill and a message on social legislation will complete the program.

Someone Releases Jack Young's Dogs

Dog Catcher Reports 25 Are Liberated After He Captured Them

Jack Young, colored dog catcher, had a decidedly worried appearance today and his tone of voice was rather mournful.

But on the other hand no doubt some other party or parties waxed gleefully as they had caused Jack some annoyance.

Here's the story: Young worked strenuously Saturday and after counting stray dogs in the city dog pound Sunday remarked to himself: "Twenty-five of 'em."

But that was Sunday. Early Monday morning he paid a visit to the dog pound and he discovered someone had let the dogs loose.

Young shuffled to the police station where he made his report to the effect that someone had freed the dogs.

Jack knows the job is tough and already he had been attacked. Young captured approximately 60 dogs last week but 25 of them will have to be retaken.

Depositor Relief Battle Continues

Advocates Of Relief For Bank Depositors Are Waging Stubborn Fight

SEEK ACTION IN NEXT FEW DAYS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Advocates of relief for depositors in closed banks, waging one of the most stubborn fights in years, today continued their campaign in both branches of congress.

Rep. McLeod (R) of Michigan, needing only 18 signatures to a petition to insure a vote on June 11, expected to complete his petition within the next two days.

Supporters of the bill then will issue a declaration against adjournment of congress before that date, in order to insure a vote.

In the meantime, the house banking committee is expected to report for passage the bill extending the effective date of the permanent bank deposit guaranty law for one year from July 1.

Into this bill, the house banking committee expects to write a provision enlarging the authority of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. to aid depositors in closed banks.

Senator Copeland (D) of New York availed an opportunity to press his own relief plan as a "rider" on a senate bill. The Copeland plan would permit the Deposit Insurance Corp. to purchase assets of closed banks at full value, thus making it possible to reimburse depositors.

Strike Threat Is Being Broadcast

Union Recognition Is Sought In Steel Industry By June 10

By JAMES C. KINCAID

(Copyright, 1934, By International News Service, Inc.)

PITTSBURGH, May 21.—Steel workers, 250,000 strong, in districts producing 90 per cent of the nation's steel and iron will declare a strike next month unless their demands for union recognition, which were presented to steel officials today, are granted.

The authority for this threatened strike in an industry whose recovery has been rapid in recent months is M. P. Tighe, international president of the Amalgamated Association of iron, steel and tin workers. Tighe asserted, "if our request for recognition is not given proper consideration by June 10."

Simultaneously with the presentation of the demands, Tighe stated steel executives have been informed of the plan to call the general strike if the requests are not given "proper consideration."

This "consideration" generally conceded to mean outright recognition of the union as the collective bargaining representative of steel workers must be granted by June 10. If the operators, who Tighe claims have made no commitments take no action, strikes will be declared in all plants in the United States where new lodges of the steel union have been organized, the international president said.

Arrest Boys For Annoying Officer

Nine Young Men Play "Tag" With Patrolman; Find They're "It"

Nine young boys who played tag with Patrolman Cooper Sunday night found themselves "it" and in jail and today faced Mayor Wayne on a charge of suspicion.

They occupied the Nesheamock creek bridge railing in East Washington street and when the patrolman ordered them to move they crossed to the opposite side of the street.

This is reported to have continued for some time and when patience ceased to be a virtue they were placed under arrest and lodged in jail cells.

Mayor Wayne went to the station house at midnight to conduct the trial and heard the din caused by the boys of the bars and he decided to leave them in jail until morning.

He said this morning that they should have obeyed the policeman and the next time they face him on such a charge said "I'll forget for three days that you are in jail."

Following the mayor's remarks Police Chief Haven announced that from now on no one will be permitted to occupy the bridge railing or loiter on the bridge.

Man Ends Life Under Engine

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Clutching a farewell note, George Rittenbaugh, 70, postmaster of Ardmore, Pa., from 1899 to 1906, ended his life today, being decapitated by a Pennsylvania railroad switching engine in Upper Darby.

Rittenbaugh, well-to-do painting contractor, was identified by his daughter, Mrs. Albert M. Taylor of Ardmore, with whom he lived.

Police said Rittenbaugh jestingly hoaxed his cronies by telling them he was the father of Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, wartime air ace and famous automobile racer, and they believed this to be true until he was identified today.

A native of Beaver, Jones came to Harrisburg as a youth, became a freight engineer in the middle division of the Pennsylvania. Later was transferred to the passenger service, and was retired in 1903 after more than 50 years service.

They were occupants of a car police said Nick Busin, 25, was operating east when the bus, traveling in the opposite direction, crashed into and demolished his car as he attempted to swerve from the middle to the right side of the highway.

Busin was held on reckless driving and aggravated assault and battery charges.

A minor laceration on the leg was suffered by Jane Ambrose, the injured bus passenger.

SUGGESTS COURT HOUSE SITE

New Castle, Pa., May 19, 1934.

Editor of the New Castle News:

I am taking the liberty of writing you about a site for the new court house that has not as yet been considered in a public way. All of the sites recommended and discussed have their advantages and disadvantages, and it is a hard job for the officials responsible for the selection of a location to make a choice that would satisfy everyone. I believe the property recommended below will meet with universal approval, and the reason of which will be a saving to the county of from $100,000 to $150,000.

The land referred to is the property just across Court street from the present court house and known as the old E. T. Kurtz home, and now owned by the Dr. Early estate. There are approximately two acres in the plot. It overlooks the city and can be seen from all parts of the city. It is ideal for the purpose wanted. It has a great many beautiful trees on it. It would take 30 years to develop the trees to their present state. On the north side the land slopes to the railroad, also the south side is unobstructed from view. The property facing Court street is composed of six houses, four of which are very old and could be purchased reasonably cheap. The other two houses, owned by Chambers and Cunningham, are modern and could be left standing and used for detention homes. At the present time the county is renting places to keep children, and these two houses would be a good investment for the county.

If desired, the Fleming house on the northeast corner, next to the Hiram Miller home, could be purchased for a sheriff's residence should the commissioners decide to abandon the present one. This house is a modern brick residence and suitable for that purpose. The Fleming, Chambers and Cunningham houses would not be a loss to the county, but an asset. The cost of the entire plot, including the Court street houses and the Fleming house, would not be more than $50,000. The three houses above mentioned would be worth to the county for county purposes at least $20,000, leaving the cost of the new site around $30,000.

The above property covers an area one-third larger than the combined area of the present property and the Boyles land on the south. There are over three acres in the proposed site, and just think what could be done in the way of landscaping, park for the people, etc. Why put the new court house on a small piece of land costing a small fortune? When the building is erected it would cover practically the entire space and leave nothing for landscaping, parking, etc.

Should the county purchase the above site it would then own the property on both sides of Court street up to the alley that runs north and south next to the detention home and the Waddington house across the street. Court street could then be graded to a grade similar to County Line street, as well as widened its full width at the curve. This would give easy access to the new court house and at the same time eliminate the dangerous "court house hill".

To erect the court house on the present site would cost the county at least $50,000 for offices, court rooms, place to house prisoners and a hundred other items of expense hard to enumerate. The valuable record would have to be moved and stored and at the same time be kept where they could be used constantly. They could not be kept in fireproof buildings, but kept where the temporary offices are located. As it will take one and one-half to two years to construct the building, the expense and turmoil attendant to temporary offices would become a nightmare to all concerned. Use the Kurtz site and use the old court house until completed and you save another $50,000.

I would ask all citizens of the county to go on the proposed location and see for themselves what an ideal place it is. The land is cheap and plenty of it. It is set upon a hill and cannot be hid. Go up and look it over.

Bass Fishing Is Not Allowed

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 21.—Informed that some fishermen were taking bass and other warm water game fish from Pennsylvania streams. The state fish commission today warned that all violators of the fish code will be fully prosecuted.

The bass season does not open until July 1.

"Taking bass at this season is perhaps the most unsportsmanlike and destructive practice in Pennsylvania fishing," the commission said.

"The adult fish, now about to enter their spawning season, are feeding ravenously. A female bass caught now is not the only fish killed. From 1,000 to 2,000 eggs are also destroyed."

Next Saturday To Be Poppy Day

Harry L. McBride Post Will Observe Annual Occasion In New Castle

GIRLS WILL SELL WORLD WAR EMBLEMS

Buddy Poppies, symbols of the sacrifices made by America's dead and wounded in the World War, will be placed on sale here next Saturday, when the Harry L. McBride post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, observes Poppy Day, an annual event.

The first definite organized sale of poppies on a nation-wide basis was conducted in America in 1921, when the Franco-American Children's league sold poppies ostensibly for the benefit of children in the devastated areas of France and Germany.

Madam Guerin, the "poppy lady" from France, sought and received the consideration of the Veterans of Foreign Wars early in 1922, after the Franco-American Children's league was dissolved. Using only poppies which were made in France, the V. F. W. with Madam Guerin's assistance, conducted the first national distribution of poppies shortly before Memorial Day, May 30, 1922.

The following year the V. F. W. found it advisable to use poppies manufactured in this country. Many of the poppies used in 1923 were supplied by artificial flower manufacturers in New York, but it was during that year's sale that the V. F. W. evolved the idea which resulted in the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy, fashioned by disabled and needy veterans.

The plan was presented to the national V. F. W. encampment at Norfolk in 1923 and was immediately adopted. In 1924, the V. F. W. Buddy Poppy factory was established at Pittsburgh.

The designation "Buddy Poppy" originated with these disabled men from the hospitals in the Pittsburgh district. In 1924, the name "Buddy Poppy" was registered by the V. F. W. with the United States patent office.

Later the original plan was abandoned in favor of having the Buddy Poppies made by the disabled veterans in various hospitals throughout the country and in a few soldiers' homes.

Next Saturday, these Buddy Poppies, made by the disabled veterans of the World War as a means of earning a livelihood, will be sold on the streets here by a group of young women under the auspices of the McBride post.

Cardinals Land In Second Place

Carl Hubbell Is Chased By St. Louis Cardinals In Game At Polo Grounds

INDIANS DEFEAT YANKEES 8 TO 5

By GENE LAWRENCE International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Climaxing a spurt that has netted them 16 wins in their last 20 starts, the St. Louis Cardinals were perched in second place in the National league race today, only one game behind the leading Cubs.

Yesterday the Red Birds handed Carl Hubbell, the league's premier pitcher, his worst beating in many a moon. Thirty-nine thousand fans, the largest crowd of the year at the Polo grounds, saw the Cards nick the Giants' mound ace for nine runs in five innings, after which Carlos Frischie tripled with the bases full was the big noise. Dizzy Dean went the route for the winners and won under wraps, 9 to 5.

Van Mungo, fire ball hurler of the Dodgers, tamed the Cubs, 5 to 1, for his fifth triumph of the year.

Pirates Walloped.
The Phillies put on one of their old-time slugfests, shelling four Pittsburgh pitchers for 23 hits and burying the Bucs under a 16 to 4 landslide. Don Hurst, benched last week for poor stickwork, led the swat parade with five hits.

Johnson, hard-luck hurler of the Reds, hooked up in a gaudy pitching duel which ended in the tenth inning when Jordan of the Braves tripled and McManus singled for a 1 to 0 win.

Indians Win.
Cleveland took second place in the American league by knocking Specs McFayden out of the box and downing the pace-setting Yankees, 8 to 5.

Young Zeke Bonura of the White Sox smacked his ninth and tenth homers of the year and drove in four runs but the Sox lost out to Boston, 6 to 5, when Eddie Morgan hit for the circuit with two aboard in the seventh.

With Burke holding Detroit to six hits, Washington easily beat the Tigers, 4 to 1, and dropped them to third place.

The Browns and Athletics staged a batting bee at St. Louis, the home town boys emerging victorious by a 10 to 7 score.

Michael Scott, defending titleholder, has withdrawn from the British amateur golf championship play. Don Work Clothes Saturday To Make Needed Repairs At Camp Phillips

A number of Boy Scout leaders assembled at Camp Phillips on Saturday afternoon and managed to do a good deal of work, prepare their own meals and still hold a regular leaders' meeting. Commissioner R. F. Davis and a crew looked after the tennis courts; Sid Smith worked on the camp grounds generally; Jack Wilson's group took care of the cabins; Bob Allen and George Horton worked in the barn, and the executive trimmed trees. Wilson's group also did some work on the baseball field.

After supper the men got together and held a leader meeting, making a number of recommendations and also holding an election of officers. Dr. Lutz was named as president for the 1934 club year, with John Wilson as vice president and Harry Miles as scribe and treasurer. The coming week-end of the training course in "troop camping" was discussed and also the patrol system of the club or "troop".

Mrs. Lawrence Markle Killed When Car Crashes Into Bank And Milk Truck

CRASH RESULTS IN SERIOUS INJURIES

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—One woman was instantly killed and two others seriously injured in an auto accident on the Perry highway near Zelienople Saturday evening about 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Lawrence Markle, 47, of Zelienople, died instantly from a broken neck and fractured skull. Her companions, Miss Elizabeth Marshall and Miss Letty Metz, also of Zelienople, suffered serious but not critical injuries and are in the Ellwood City hospital. The former received a broken collar bone and a fractured left leg. Miss Metz received a fractured left leg. Both suffered a number of bruises and lacerations.

The accident occurred when something apparently had gone wrong with the car which was driven by Mrs. Markle. It careened into a bank and then crashed into a milk truck. Class Hears Bassalaureate

Ellwood Seniors Hear Address By Rev. Hugh Maxwell Sunday

CAPACITY CROWD FILLS AUDITORIUM

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—"Having the ability to obey a heavenly vision, one's parents, and superiors is a fine result to have attained from an education," declared the Rev. Hugh D. Maxwell, retired minister of the Emmanuel Reformed church, in his sermon to the class of 1934 of Lincoln high school at the Baccalaureate service in the Lincoln auditorium Sunday evening.

A capacity audience honored the class of 1934 and witnessed the program of the evening. Members of the class were attired in the customary solemn gray caps and gowns and were seated in a reserved section of the auditorium. The stage where the various local ministers presided was bedecked with ferns and spring flowers.

An impressive program was carried out during the evening with the Rev. J. F. Christiansen, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran church as the presiding officer. It was begun with two prelude numbers by the high school orchestra under the direction of Prof. Paul Winter. During this the class marched in solemn procession to their places. After the invocation by the Rev. W. E. Minter of the U. P. church, the assemblage sang the hymn "All People That On Earth Do Dwell."

Rev. A. M. Stevenson of the First Presbyterian church read the scripture and Rev. Thomas Berger of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian church offered a prayer. The Junior and Senior High School Choral club under the direction of Miss Edith Bottorff then rendered an interesting number.

This was followed with the sermon of the evening by Rev. Maxwell. His theme was "The Heavenly Vision." The speaker stressed that one cannot fully enjoy life by only realizing the material blessings of the world. He must also lay hold of the spiritual things to sustain an ideal life. He urged the assemblage to remember that God is in control of everything.

Rev. Maxwell stated that education such as given by high schools, is necessary in order to be able to understand and enjoy the material things of life. He pointed out how obeying of heavenly visions have made some of our great men. As an illustration he told of the fight of Abraham Lincoln and Blackstone against slavery, after receiving a heavenly vision, and of the untiring efforts of St. Paul in teaching the gospel. The speaker urged a whole hearted support of worthy things and at all times doing the will of God.

In closing Rev. Maxwell stated that it was fitting to give thanks to the taxpayers of Ellwood City, their parents, the school board, and the faculty for the splendid opportunities given them that they now can fully cherish a job well done.

Alta Lee Battersby, Gerald Wright, Alexander Exposito, and Robert Fetterman then rendered a brass quartette number with orchestra accompaniment. The program closed with the pronouncement of the benediction by the Rev. B. G. Osterhouse of the First Baptist church.

Quota Is Nearly Half Raised Here

Total In Chest Now Is $10,000; Need $12,500 More By End Of Week

ELLWOOD CITY, May 21.—The city's annual community chest drive is nearly half done. A sum of $10,000 was raised on Saturday, bringing the total to $10,000. This leaves $12,500 to raise by the end of this week.

This is the second week of the drive, and it is hoped that the public will respond to the plea of General Chairman Michael Edelman last Saturday to put the drive over the top. He gave some valuable points on why it should, which gave people considerable food for thought.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Scars

If you think an operation is always the only way to escape the misery of torturing piles, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Roid the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Leonard has convinced that the cause of Piles was internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from Pile agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. Immediately the doctor set to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his prescription HEM-ROID.

Pile sufferers everywhere are benefiting by Dr. Leonard's discovery, so why doubt or delay longer when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of Piles you have, one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must show you the safe clean way to get rid of your pile misery or money-back."

Annual Shoot Held At Hershey, Pa., Saturday Bodes Ill For John Dillingier

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 21.—Spectators who on Saturday attended the annual Pennsylvania state police shoot at the training barracks in Hershey today were agreed that if John Dillingier knows what's good for him he'll stay out of Pennsylvania.

In the "running man" event on the program Saturday teams from five state police troops were to shoot at a moving cardboard figure representing a running man.

The five members of the team from troop A at Greensburg, the first to shoot at the moving target, fired with such deadly accuracy that they blasted away the head and shoulders of the cardboard man. The remainder of the event was cancelled when another target for the other four teams could not be found.

Troop A of Greensburg won the shoot with a score of 2166 out of a possible 2500. Edward W. Morrison of troop A wrested the individual championship from Thomas B. Eshelman of troop B, Wyoming, who has held it for the past three years. Morrison shot 453 out of 500 and Eshelman shot 434.

Boy Four Years Old Falls Into Lake Near Carlisle, Pa., Is Saved By Dog

(International News Service)
CARLISLE, Pa., May 21.—A few days ago "Sandy," a seven-year-old German police dog, faced death because he was getting too old and "grouchy".

Today, "Sandy" was a hero, with a renewed and perpetual lease on life because he saved his master's grandson from drowning.

"Sandy" proved himself a hero

Saturday afternoon when Tommy Sayers, the four-year-old grandson of Charles W. Sayers, general secretary of the Carlisle Y. M. C. A., toppled into five feet of water near Laurel lake south of Carlisle while playing.

The dog stood with ears cocked and body poised waiting for Tommy to reappear. When the boy failed to come to the surface, "Sandy" leaped into the water, gripped Tommy's clothes near the shoulder and dragged him ashore.

Then "Sandy" began barking, loud and furiously. Tommy's mother and grandmother hurried to the lake. Tommy was safe except for a slight abrasion of the left leg.

"Sandy" will end his days in style befitting a hero.

Emotion And Worry Are Bad For Heart

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—Do you desire a healthy heart?

Then, keep your chin up and smile.

Don't worry about losing your job or paying the rent.

For, worry and emotional strain are two contributing factors to diseases of the heart, according to Dr. O. Spurgeon English, clinical professor of psychiatry in the Temple University School of Medicine.

Speaking Friday before a conference on heart problems, attended by medical specialists, Dr. English declared:

"Emotion plays a great part in the development of angina pectoris. The heart, indeed, may be said to be the organ of anxiety and quickly responds to fears and emotional stresses."

Worry Is Bad

To illustrate his remarks Dr. English presented a patient who developed angina pectoris because he worried about his home, then aggravated the disease by worrying about his heart.

"In cases of this sort," said Dr. English, "re-education of the patient to gain confidence in himself again is absolutely necessary. We must tell the patient that he has a body that will function if he does not allow it to be overwhelmed by his environment."

Another speaker at the conference, Dr. Joseph B. Wolfe, Temple university cardiologist, emphasized the importance of medicine and prompt therapeutics in the treatment of angina pectoris.

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The drive to "repeal" repeal was under way today with opening of a statewide campaign by the Pennsylvania anti-saloon league under the direction of 100 representatives from 20 Protestant denominations.

Dr. Homer W. Tope, state superintendent of the anti-saloon league declared that "people everywhere are rising up against the 'new deal saloon'" and warned that "we now have the old saloon, plus women, plus the new tavern."

"Our goal is state prohibition as soon as public sentiment will warrant it," Dr. Tope declared.

Summer Reunion Event Enjoyed

Veteran Italian-American Citizens Club Gathers At De Salvo Farm Sunday

Meeting at the farm of Francesco De Salvo, near East Brook, Sunday, May 20, the Veteran Italian-American Citizens Club held its summer reunion, with all but four of the membership present. The weather was ideal for the purpose and the members enjoyed it to the full.

The Veteran Italian-American Citizens Club is composed of men who came to America from Italy more than 25 years ago, and who are now past the fifty year mark in age. Out of the ranks of this organization have come artisans and professional men, workers who have had their share in building New Castle in the past quarter century. Because the requirements are rigid membership is sought in this organization.

Each year two banquets are held, one in the summer and one in the winter.

The menu was in charge of Donato Prioletti on Sunday and his skill in preparing spaghetti was never more in evidence. Great platters of the delicacy disappeared with speed and dispatch and with the spaghetti were meat balls, rolled beef, veal and chicken. During the day Michela Cea, the "One Man Band" entertained with his music and impersonations.

Special guests of the day were Mayor Charles B. Mayne, Rev. N. DeMita, Rev. Farina, Dr. J. P. Prioletti and Bart Richards. Officers of the organization are President, John Cassacchia; vice president, Bartolomeo Leonard; secretary, David Galibus; treasurer, Donato Prioletti.

Is Big Sun Spot Giving You Pep?

Electrons Said To Be More Numerous In Atmosphere Than For Years

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, May 21.—How do you do? How do you feel today?

As a matter of fact, you are always a human laboratory—maybe strange forces are working about you and within you.

A gigantic sunspot, 16,000 miles across, this spring is near the center of the sun for the first time in several years.

According to some noted scientists, it will affect you. According to the sunspot theory, the earth, as a result of the great sunspot now crossing the sun, is being showered with electrons.

Electrons increase the electrical tension of human beings. Possibly according to some scientists, these electrons have a vital effect on the preservation of life by vitalizing the air we breathe.

Some reasonably well accredited scientists declare these electrons give greater vigor to humans, animals and plants, while they are most prevalent.

And now, because of the sunspot, the electrons are more numerous in the atmosphere than they have been for years.

So, maybe you are filled with a new vigor. Probably plants are doing better.

According to the system advocated by the late Father Richard of the University of Santa Clara, the weather resulting from sunspot activity may be hot or cold, wet or dry—but it will be "unusual" in intensity.

And everyone knows that weather affects humanity, animals and plants.

Dr. George Crile, famous Cleveland physician, recently gave the American Philosophical society his own version of the "electrified life".

He said that the electrons charge nitrogen particles in the air with electricity and that these electrified particles are taken into the body in air, food and drink. Once in the body, they re-radiate their power in the form of million-volt short-wave rays, giving activating force to the brain, muscles and nerve cells.

There will be special entertainment featuring the concert.

Westminster girls' glee club will sing at the First U. P. church, Glenmore boulevard, on Wednesday evening, May 23, at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Union societies of the First and Highland U. P. churches.

There will be special entertainment featuring the concert.
